DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 1, 85 and 89 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because each of said claims includes two statutory classes of invention: a process and an apparatus. The claims are directed to a method while reciting a processor performing the method steps. It must be clear from the wording of a claim that it is drawn to one or the other of mutually exclusive statutory classes of invention. A process is an act or a series of acts and from the standpoint of patentability must distinguish over the prior art in terms of steps, whereas a claim drawn to apparatus must distinguish in terms of structure. Ex parte Lyell at 1552.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1, 85 and 89 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 101, set forth in this Office action.

Furthermore, claim 89 would be allowable if rewritten to include limitations of claim 1, i.e. "generating an optimized auction commodity distribution plan for said predetermined number of present auction commodity products using said generated forecast price for distributing each of said predetermined number of present auction commodity products to one of said physical auction sites prior to auctioning said present auction commodity product at said auction site".

Claims 29-84 are allowed.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

The prior art of record neither anticipates nor renders obvious the following feature: generating an optimized auction commodity distribution plan for said predetermined number of present auction commodity products using said generated forecast price for distributing each of said predetermined number of present auction commodity products to one of said physical auction sites prior to auctioning said present auction commodity product at said auction site.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
